Dixie Reapers is an American country music band formed in 2010 in Nashville, Tennessee. The band consists of lead vocalist and rhythm guitarist Robert Lee "Reaper" Johnson, lead guitarist and backing vocalist Trey "Reaper" Carter, bass guitarist and backing vocalist Jake "Reaper" Evans, and drummer and backing vocalist Matt "Reaper" Wilson.

The band's name is a reference to the Confederate States of America, which was also known as the "Dixie Confederacy." The Reapers have said that they chose the name because they wanted to "represent the South" and its "rebellious spirit."

The Reapers released their debut album, Ride the Reaper, in 2012. The album was a critical and commercial success, debuting at number one on the Billboard Country Albums chart and selling over 500,000 copies in the United States.

The Reapers' second album, Bad Boys, was released in 2014. The album was another commercial success, debuting at number two on the Billboard Country Albums chart and selling over 300,000 copies in the United States.

The Reapers have been praised for their energetic live performances and their catchy, country-rock songs. The band has toured extensively throughout the United States and Canada, and they have been featured on several television shows, including The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon and The Ellen DeGeneres Show.
